

DIRECTORS' NOTE:

This stage is where history, language arts and personal writing collide.

In a beautiful way, we see the human timeline form.

We stitch it together, person by person, and experience by experience.

Thank you for supporting these performers.

We are so PROUD of our cast! -Mary & Sarah

"If you could have a bird's eye perspective on the Earth, and could look down on all the conflicts that are happening, all you'd see are two sides of a story where both sides think they're right." —Pema Chodron (Practicing Peace in Times of War)

"We keep drama on the stage."
